

Prof. Alaric Naudé EdD PhD
노디아 앨러릭 교수

Unit 1: Hospital Staff

Textbook for Reference: Career Paths Nursing, 2018 Edition, Express Publishing

What you need for this Lecture

Textbook

Career Paths
Nursing, 2018
Edition, Express
Publishing

Writing Material

Pen and paper/notebook

NOTE:

My pronunciation is close to British English so you may notice differences when I say “doctor” and other words.

Your Brain

Your brain is very important. Please use it! 😊

Clinical English

01 Greek

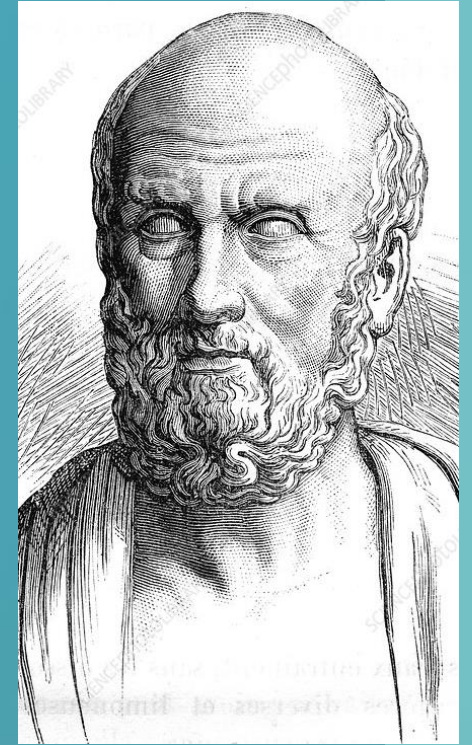

Many medical terms come from Greek

02 Latin

Latin had a strong influence on English but especially science and medicine. Today many medical terms still use Latin.

03 Prefixes and Suffixes

Greek and Latin are like building blocks. Sections of word can be added together to make words with new meanings. In Korean, complicated words are often based on Hanja. In English, complicated words often come from Greek and Latin.

Hippocrates (460-370 BC)
Father of Western Medicine

Let's see how Greek and Latin Work

Example of Prefix-Suffix Word Building

A prefix (접두사) can be combined with a suffix (접미사) to make a new word.

~ ology (~學)

~ologist (學者 / 專門家)

Biology

生物

學

καρδιά

Cardiology

心臟

學

Biologist

生物

學者

Cardiologist

心臟病

專門家

Mercy Heart Hospital Directory

Textbook for Reference: Career Paths Nursing, 2018 Edition, Express Publishing p. 4

First Floor

01

Robert Gibbons
Receptionist
See for: Visitor Information:
Main Lobby

Doctor (의사/박사)

----Dr. Frank Fabrizio
Radiologist
See for: X-rays, MRI
Scans: Rm. 113

-----Room

Lisa Kirby
Lab Technician
See for: Analysis, Test Results:
Rm. 125

Susan Devlin
Pharmacist
See for: Prescription Drug
Pick up: Rm. 129

Second Floor

02

Dr. Leslie Gupta
Cardiologist
See for: Heart Disease, Heart Surgery:
Rm. 231

Dr. Terry David
Pediatrician
See for : children's health, Rm. 200

Third Floor

03

Dr. James Lottner
Anesthesiologist
See for: Surgery pain relief and preparation, Rm. 312

Dr. Stacy Walters
Chief Surgeon
See for: Surgical Procedures: Rm. 323

Fourth Floor

04

Dr. Jared Cho
General Practitioner
See for: General medicine, Rm. 403

Dr. Regina Beverly Obstetrician
See for: pregnancy, Rm. 408

Question Solving

Read the main article on page 4 with a loud voice and practice the pronunciation.

1. READ ALOUD

2. READ FOR MEANING

Read the article again (with no sound). Try to understand the contents. Write the Korean next to the words you do not know.

Read the questions and find the words you do not know. Try to understand the questions.

3. READ THE QUESTIONS

4. SOLVE THE QUESTIONS

Solve the questions. Read article and solve Questions 2 to 4.
Use CD to solve questions 5 to 7.
Solve question 9 using your own ideas.

1 2
3 4

Further Information

This lesson

I will put a copy of this lessons PDF on my website for you to download.

Please visit <http://www.naude.eu/student-files.html>

Practice all the words that you do not know. I recommend you make your own word dictionary to review from time to time.

END OF LECTURE

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Thank You

